ROCKWATCH

AIRDATE	FEATURE ARTIST
June 4-5	CHEAP TRICK This zany Midwestern band may be the biggest comeback story of 1988. In the late seventies Cheap Trick achieved platinum record sales and headlined concerts in huge halls with one of the most exciting live shows in rock and roll. Their most memorable songs of that era were "I Want You To Want Me" (from the Live at Budokan album), "Surrender," "Dream Police," "Ain't That A Shame," and "Everything Works If You Let It." Recently, the band's Lap Of Luxury album including the cut "The Flame," has put them back on top. Robin Zander and Rick Nielsen talks about the highs and the lows on Rockwatch.
June 11-12	ROD STEWART The Jeff Beck Group debuted in America twenty years ago in a performance at the Fillmore East. Vocalist Rod Stewart helped create some of that band's most memorable work and later became a rock superstar both with the Faces and as a soloist. Songs like "Mandolin Wind," "Every Picture Tells A Story," "(I Know) I'm Losing You," "Maggie May," "You Wear It Well," and "Stay With Me" remain rock classics. Always one of the most colorful characters in the music business, Rod Stewart adds his memories to this edition of Rockwatch.
June 18-19	PAUL MCCARTNEY Paul McCartney celebrates a birthday on June 18. While in the Beatles, Paul was half of one of the most successful songwriting teams in history. During that era he created "I Want To Hold Your Hand," "Yesterday," "Lady Madonna," "Hey Jude," and "Let It Be," and many other Beatles hits. Since that time, he has written and performed classics like "My Love," "Maybe I'm Amazed," "Band On The Run," "Jet" and "Live And Let Die." We'll review Paul's career, hear his comments, and sample some of his best songs this week on Rockwatch.
June 25-26	ROLLING STONES Ten years ago, the Stones released their landmark album Some Girls. The cuts "Miss You," "Beast Of Burden," and "Shattered" became instant favorites, and the album quickly rose to the top of the charts. The group began a major tour of the U.S. that same month, in Philadelphia. This week, we'll again enjoy what just may be the most important album of the year 1978, by the "World's Greatest Rock and Roll Band," the Rolling Stones.

AIRDATE	FEATURE ARTIST
June 4-5	CHEAP TRICK This zany Midwestern band may be the biggest comeback story of 1988. In the late seventies Cheap Trick achieved platinum record sales and headlined concerts in huge halls with one of the most exciting live shows in rock and roll. Their most memorable songs of that era were "I Want You To Want Me" (from the Live at Budokan album), "Surrender," "Dream Police," "Ain't That A Shame," and "Everything Works If You Let It." Recently, the band's Lap Of Luxury album including the cut "The Flame," has put them back on top. Robin Zander and Rick Nielsen talks about the highs and the lows on Rockwatch.
June 11-12	ROD STEWART The Jeff Beck Group debuted in America twenty years ago in a performance at the Fillmore East. Vocalist Rod Stewart helped create some of that band's most memorable work and later became a rock superstar both with the Faces and as a soloist. Songs like "Mandolin Wind," "Every Picture Tells A Story," "(I Know) I'm Losing You," "Maggie May," "You Wear It Well," and "Stay With Me" remain rock classics. Always one of the most colorful characters in the music business, Rod Stewart adds his memories to this edition of Rockwatch.
June 18-19	PAUL MCCARTNEY Paul McCartney celebrates a birthday on June 18. While in the Beatles, Paul was half of one of the most successful songwriting teams in history. During that era he created "I Want To Hold Your Hand," "Yesterday," "Lady Madonna," "Hey Jude," and "Let It Be," and many other Beatles hits. Since that time, he has written and performed classics like "My Love," "Maybe I'm Amazed," "Band On The Run," "Jet" and "Live And Let Die." We'll review Paul's career, hear his comments, and sample some of his best songs this week on Rockwatch.
June 25-26	ROLLING STONES Ten years ago, the Stones released their landmark album Some Girls. The cuts "Miss You," "Beast Of Burden," and "Shattered" became instant favorites, and the album quickly rose to the top of the charts. The group began a major tour of the U.S. that same month, in Philadelphia. This week, we'll again enjoy what just may be the most important album of the year 1978, by the "World's Greatest Rock and Roll Band," the Rolling Stones.
